Short o Real Word Story

The mob at the odd lot gave a nod to the man with a hot sob who did jog on the job. “Do not bog us down,” the mob said to the man with the hot sob. Why all the fog? Sit on the log, and tell us from the top what is the cause of your sob.

I don't mean to hop and jog past your lot and be all hot and sob like a hog or an ox. I don't mean to bob like cod or pop like a doll. The mob did nod when the man did tell his story.

My name is Mr. Nog, and I am not a con. I box on and off. I got a lot. I also will jot down rot and sell it. But that is not all. I also have a wife, Dot, and I have a fox I call Top. Dot hates the fox and told me I have to put the fox in a pot. That is why I sob and jog and pop like a cork that does bob. I like Top, my fox.

The mob did nod and nod. Here is what you do, Mr. Nog. Take your fox in a box, and hop over to the lot by the bog. We will adopt your fox and not let it rot.
