Short u Real Word Story

The bus did hum and buzz as it drove in the sun. On the bus was a nun and a bum who did lug a pup with bugs, lots of bugs. The nun began to hum and mull over a sum. The bus had a dull rug with gum on it. The pup did run and huff and puff as he ran on the rug to muss it up. The bum did hug and rub the pup as it dug into the bum's gut.

Many things passed by: a hut with a mum cub in the mud and muck, a gull next to the hull of a tug that did jut out past a sub with a gun on the deck that shot a dud, a man with a top with cuffs, and a cup, and nuts on a bun. The man had a cut and had a jug that he did buff. The man did not have a gun, but he did need a tub.

Then there was a lull. All of us in the bus were in a big rut. We did not want to muff things. We made no fuss, but we were not having fun. We need to cull out those things that are dull. Do you know a good pun? No, things were null; it was as if we had hit a duff shot. I think I will get my pal Bud a mug. But if I lug a mug for Bud, I must get a cud for the bum.
